10/10 ign i don't know why. This game makes me sick to my core, because it exists. I believe that the developers had the intention of bringing this game to kids around the world, but for $4.99?! This game has ads and asks you rate levels so the developers can "make more" but honestly i don't think they should. This should have been an app instead of a game on steam, not saying it should be one, im saying it SHOULD'VE been one. The game is alright except I don't understand why the bunny rabbit dog thing has a grudge on mushrooms with faces.. game in handphone on steam ...

no comment ... Really a good game. i enjoyed every single second of it. Absolutely gorgeous graphics and some great physics too.

So over all i would fully recommend this game to anyone who wants to have fun. And who doesn't like to have fun?. wow its so cute and challenging

i wish the achivements will be steam ones. best game and very cheap lol 5/10

Best game I have EVER PLAYED. EVER. Seriously. So amazing.

10/10 - Flawless

(really though don't buy it). Other than being a direct port of a free iOS and Android game, I'm not sure what all the bad press is about. It seems to control just fine with a mouse. The bee bumper may jump around on you a little bit though. Also, some levels feel like they are won more with luck and patience than with skill. But the physics do at least seem consistent even if a bit aggravating at times. Not too much challenge to the levels unless you're aiming to get all the (in game) achievements and crowns. Overall an ok time waster and something that may prove to be a cute and possibly fun challenge for the kiddos. Good graphics, a little short but playtime can be extended with the challenge of going for the crowns so 4.99 is not too bad an asking price.. I did not realize this game was made for an Android device when I paid for it, (I should have read the reviews).. It is a fun cartoon based arcade game that I would request to any one that is interested in the game, to try it for your self.. Just a game. Love this game, Its like skyrim but with guns

5/5. 2 months later Edit: still no fixes to the game, it's in a bundle now though so more people can buy this broken and terrible game

Edit: the dev responded to my review and actually seems to care (unlike with most games), so my opinions expressed below may change if they update the game, if so I will re-play the game again and update my review

I'm really not sure what I was expecting from this, a very bad ripoff I guess.

yet I was still let down.

it controls horribly, almost unplayable with a mouse (the only control option on pc)

it has built in advertisements for games on the app store just terrible, I really hope nobody else buys this. If you want to pay for a mobile game that even contains in game ads on steam, this is for you. But i hate screen blocking ads. its the reason i dont play mobile games. But since I paid full price for this game, WHY has it got ads????
